What the Travel Channel says about Ghost Adventures and Ghostober:

“In this special four-part miniseries event, Zak Bagans, Aaron Goodwin, Billy Tolley and Jay Wasley head to the “Graveyard of the Pacific” – a treacherous nautical region within the Pacific Northwest where the freshwater of the Columbia River meets the Pacific Ocean. Here, darkness plagues both land and sea – the ocean has claimed thousands of shipwrecks and countless lives, while unexplained deaths, diseases, fires and murders have impacted areas around the shoreline.

The investigation takes the team to multiple haunted locations – from the underground tunnels weaving beneath the city of Astoria, Oregon, and the port city’s Norblad Hostel to the Fort Stevens Military Base outside of town where dangerous entities are believed to haunt various sites. The investigation culminates at the North Head Lighthouse in Washington, which bore witness to some of the most tragic shipwrecks of this watery graveyard. #GhostAdventures”

Your Host, Jeff Davis

Jeff Davis talking with Steve DiSchiavi on the Dead Files

Jeff has written, edited, or contributed to over a dozen books on the paranormal and military history. Some of these books include, Weird Washington, Weird Oregon, Haunted Astoria, and Vancouver USA Ghosts, Volume I. He has been a guest on Coast to Coast AM, Haunted History, and the Dead Files.

Jeff Davis was born in Vancouver, Washington and grew up in the Army, so to speak. Jeff grew up playing in and around the Vancouver Barracks. This led to an interest in the military and history. Late night horror movies led to an interest in ghosts, mythology, and archaeology. Jeff spent 32 years in the US Army and Army Reserves, where he went from being a Private in the Infantry to a Major and military historian. He served in Bosnia, Italy, Japan, Korea, and far too many 'Stans' to name here. Over the years, Jeff served at the Vancouver Barracks and mixes his love of military history, the Vancouver Barracks, and the paranormal by giving Spirit Tours of the Vancouver Barracks.
